

Habitat Williamson-Maury Board Member Brooke Barrett

Brooke Barrett is a lifelong Tennessean who grew up right here in Williamson County. She attended Middle Tennessee State University with a major in Journalism. After graduating, she worked in television news for 15 years. Eventually, she left the media world to begin her career in state government. She has served in various administrations with the State of Tennessee, as well as expanded into the engineering field. She is currently the Legislative Director for Jigsaw, which is a dynamic strategic consulting firm. She brings her years of both media and government experience to their team.

Brooke joined the HFHWM Board because of her desire to give back to the community she grew up in. She participated in Habitat for Humanity builds in high school and has been inspired by our mission since then. Brooke is an expert in state legislative matters, as well as environmental regulation and policy.

Her knowledge of legislative processes is extremely beneficial to our HFHWM team. In addition, her motivation and strong initiative to roll up her sleeves and get things done, as well as her leadership skills, make her the perfect fit for our board. She is honored to be part of our organization and help combat the challenges we face.

Brooke encourages the HFHWM Board and staff to “always focus on the mission and remember why Habitat was started.” She stated, “We are here to help families achieve the dream of homeownership. Everything we do should be focused on that.”

Brooke resides in Spring Hill with her two daughters and their two dogs, Cosmo and Leo. She is a member of the Columbia Noon Rotary and the Spring Hill Chamber of Commerce where she serves as the Chair of the Committee for Political Affairs. She is also a graduate of Leadership Middle Tennessee and was recognized by the State for STAR Customer Service.
