

Cohen Rogers was born and raised in Murray, KY where he received a Construction Management Degree at Murray State University. Growing up with a father as a custom home builder, he developed a passion for construction which strongly influenced his career path.

Throughout Cohen's career he had the privilege to build and oversee construction projects for clients such as HCA, NASCAR, and Vanderbilt. In the past year, he accepted a role as a Preconstruction Estimator with Lifestyle Communities, a multifamily developer and builder.

"Lifestyle Communities actually introduced him to my first build day and I have wanted to help out the organization ever since," he shared. Cohen also recently passed the required examinations and currently holds a General Contractors license in the state of Tennessee, South Carolina, and North Carolina.

In his spare time, he enjoys spending time and traveling with his wife, Addison, as well as spending time with family.
