

Future Homeowner Jamesia Dowell

Habitat for Humanity Williamson Maury is happy to introduce Jamesia Dowell and her children Skylar (10), Kezavier (8), Sanaia (7), Kaiden (5), and Kai (9 months) to the Homeownership Program.

Miss Dowell is from Nashville, TN and graduated from Hillsboro High School in 2009. She was a member of the cheerleading squad for both the basketball and football teams at Hillsboro and following high school, attended Kaplan College. For the past two years, Jamesia has enjoyed working at Aetna as a new business case manager. Her father, also a single parent, provided for his family through construction work, and instilled within Jamesia a solid work ethic.

Jamesia grew up attending church and she seeks to provide the same spiritual foundation for her children. Dowell family regularly attends Sunday morning church, as well as weekly bible study, at Cummings Street Church of Christ.

The children enjoy participating in a variety of activities. Skylar enjoys reading; her favorite genre is historical fiction. Kezavier is a “boy’s boy” and enjoys all physical activities. Sanaia is an entertainer; dancing is her gift. Kaiden enjoys playing sports with his big brother, and Kai is the baby of the family. The family looks forward to when Kai is old enough to participate in their Friday night family disco parties and trips to the trampoline park.

Miss Dowell is excited to get to know her new neighbors and can’t wait to help build their homes. She believes that the most challenging part of the Homeownership Program has been working to eliminate her debt, but she remains relentless in succeeding. After creating stability for her family, she hopes to become a registered nurse. The family would like to thank their sponsors and Habitat for the opportunity. Jamesia says, "Without my sponsors, we wouldn’t be able to own a home."

Jamesia’s home build will begin in the spring of 2019 in the Willow Crest Subdivision in Fairview, TN.
