

introducing the velasquez family

Habitat for Humanity Williamson-Maury is happy to welcome Elizabeth Velasquez and her children Milan (4) and Analia (1) into the Homeownership Program!

Elizabeth was born and raised in Franklin, TN. Her mother is a sous chef at Williamson Medical Hospital and her father opened his own Mexican restaurant 12 years ago. She graduated from Centennial High School and began her education at Columbia State Community College.

Today, Elizabeth works at Cigna Healthcare reviewing medical claims. "My goal is to one day open my own business and go back to school. I was going to school for nursing so I would love to continue that," she shares.

Outside of work, the Velasquez family spends their time hiking and playing together. Elizabeth's son, Milan, is a very active 4-year-old that loves trucks, Spider-Man, and playing soccer. Analia is in the exciting stage of exploring the world around her and is currently obsessed with her baby dolls.

As a single mom of two young children with no outside help, Elizabeth feels blessed to begin this journey of becoming a homebuyer. Due to the rising cost of living in our area, it has been challenging for her to find decent, affordable housing on one income. She is thrilled to end the cycle of moving from one rental property to the next and finally having the opportunity to purchase a home of her own.

"I would like to thank you all for this opportunity. I don't know how much I can thank you all for this. If it wasn't for you all none of this would ever be happening," Elizabeth remarks. "I know it is going to bring so much joy and is such a blessing to my children and me."

Congratulations, Velasquez family!
