

Future Homeowner Kim Wilson

Habitat for Humanity Williamson Maury is happy to introduce Kim Wilson and her nine-year-old daughter Destine to its Homeownership Program.

Miss Wilson, a native of Franklin, TN and a graduate of Centennial High School, has lived her entire life in Williamson County.

“I have so many good memories growing up in Williamson County and I want those same kind of memories for my daughter. It is not easy with the rising costs of housing, but I very much want to be near my family. I had my daughter very young. It hasn’t been easy at times, but the process has motivated me to always strive to do better. I strongly desire stability for Destine, and this program has given me hope that I can achieve that for her.”

Kim works as a client services representative for Tom James in Franklin, and Destine attends New Hope Academy in Franklin. When she is not working, Kim spends every moment possible with her family and her daughter. “Destine is a little artist. She loves to paint and draw and simply loves anything creative. We spend a lot of time watching cooking shows. I love to cook, especially pasta, which is my favorite.”

“My family has always pushed me to do better for myself, so I was ecstatic when I heard about the opportunity to purchase a home through Habitat’s program,” explains Kim. “I am so extremely grateful to my sponsors. I want them to know that I am a loving person, and that I live a peaceful life. I am doing everything that I know to make this life wonderful for myself and my daughter.”

Kim Wilson’s home will commence construction in Spring 2019 in the new community of Willow Crest in Fairview, TN.
